

DELEGATE SCANLAN: Delegate Kiefer, I could not answer it until I had determined whether the attorney is just advocating his own point of view. If he is, then he is not covered by the proposed regulation. If he is engaged for hire to advocate the views of others, corporation, person, association, what have you, then if this regulation were in effect, that letter to you would be an attempt to contact the delegate and he would have to register within three days after having done so.

Now if he was engaged by, say, the good citizens of the Baptist and Catholics united from your county to present their views, he would have to register only if he came down here and testified before your committee. At that time he would have to register. Does that answer your question?

DELEGATE KIEFER: I think so because this thing specifically represents a group, and I assume he is for hire, because it indicates that, and proposes a specific proposal. Therefore I would assume we would have to require him to register.

DELEGATE SCANLAN: Tell him he is lucky he got the letter in early.

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Pullen.

DELEGATE PULLEN: Mr. President, so far as I can see, this is nothing but a splendid confession of faith.

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Pullen, the only order of business at the moment are questions addressed to the Chairman of the Committee for clarification. Are you going to ask a question?

DELEGATE PULLEN: I ask why we do not proceed to vote upon it and trust to Providence to pull us through.

THE PRESIDENT: Are there any further questions?

DELEGATE SCANLAN: Is he registered?

THE PRESIDENT: If not, Delegate Scanlan, you may make—I am sorry, Delegate Della.

DELEGATE DELLA: Mr. Scanlan, should this report be adopted, how will the lobbyists be informed that we have a rule on our books requiring them to register?

DELEGATE SCANLAN: I apologize, Senator Della, I was going to say that if the recommendation, however amended, is adopted by the Convention today, we would move that the regulation be printed as an appendix with the rules when those rules are either finally printed or finally mimeographed, whatever the form of the distribution of the rules may be.

THE PRESIDENT: Any further questions? Delegate Scanlan, you may make your motion.

DELEGATE SCANLAN: Mr. President, before I formally move adoption of the resolution, I would just like to move two amendments, one completely stylistic. Wherever the word resolution occurs in our proposed regulations and in our report, it should read "regulation." The reason for that is, the rule that we adopted in July, Rule 69 [73]* of the Rules, states that the Convention may by resolution issue rules or regulations with respect to the registration and appearance of lobbyists. In effect our purpose is to make this a regulation regarding lobbyists and therefore I move you, sir, that wherever the word resolution appears in our proposed regulation, and in our report, that it be read as "regulation."

THE PRESIDENT: Technically I think probably the motion to approve the resolution ought to be before you first, but I do not think there is any objection. The Chair will rule that in the absence of objection, any objection, the stylistic amendment just suggested by the committee will be made. Is there any objection at all?

THE PRESIDENT: Hearing none, the resolution is amended so as to substitute for the word resolution wherever it appears in the body of the proposal, the word "regulation."

DELEGATE SCANLAN: The second proposed committee amendment is substantive. It is the one to which I referred earlier, namely, the suggestion of Delegate Morgan that in the last line of page 4, section 7, of the proposed regulation, dealing with contingent compensation, the last line thereof, now reading "contingent upon such adoption or defeat," be eliminated, and that there be substituted for the language reading "that is determined"—

THE PRESIDENT: Read that again, Mr. Scanlan; the substitute language is what?

DELEGATE SCANLAN: "That is determined in whole or in part, with reference to the result accomplished."

That is a slightly broader coverage than we had and more consistent with the statutory regulation on the subject.

DELEGATE BAMBERGER: Say that again, please.
